A Photographic Record of the International Town Twinning Meeting

About the Meeting

From 28 to 30 August 2026, Brestovec, Slovakia, hosted an international town twinning meeting within the "PRIDE – Promoting Respect, Inclusion, Diversity & Engagement Across Communities in Europe" project (Project acronym: PRIDEinEUROPE). Residents and representatives from Brestovec, Comuna Racu in Romania, Jászladány and Ravazd in Hungary, and Mesna zajednica Trešnjevac in Serbia came together to exchange experiences and explore the role of European values in local community life.

The programme focused on respect, inclusion, diversity and active civic engagement. Over three days, people from the five communities walked together, discussed how to recognise disinformation and make their communities more inclusive, and watched ten short films made by the partners. A memory game they had developed together gave participants another way to discover one another's towns and traditions. Workshops and discussions gave participants opportunities to share their perspectives, while children's artwork, community films and cultural performances introduced the stories and traditions of the participating communities.

The meeting also produced commitments for future cooperation. On the final day representatives of the five communities adopted the PRIDE Declaration of Brestovec and signed 10 bilateral cooperation agreements. They also planted the Tree of European Unity in Brestovec, where it will grow as a reminder of the days they spent together, as a lasting symbol of their connection and EU values.

This publication brings together the programme, a short account of each day and photographs of the people who made the meeting possible.

THE THREE-DAY TOWN TWINNING MEETING IN PICTURES

Day 1
Welcoming the Partner Communities
Friday, 28 August 2026

The meeting opened with an official welcome to the partner delegations and the opening of the children's art exhibition. The artwork brought younger generations' perspectives into the meeting and offered a starting point for conversations about community and belonging.
During "Windows to Our Towns", the participating communities introduced their cultural heritage and local traditions. The "Harmony in Diversity" intercultural evening continued these exchanges through music and shared experiences, giving participants time to get to know one another.

Day 2
Exploring European Values Together
Saturday, 29 August 2026

The second day connected European themes with local experiences. The "Walk for Europe" brought participants to four thematic stops dedicated to respect, inclusion, diversity and engagement. These activities invited people to contribute their own ideas and learn about the other communities.
The "Building Bridges Across Communities" conference provided space for exchanging local experiences and introduced the project's memory game. Afternoon workshops addressed disinformation, the protection of democracy, and ways to build safe and inclusive communities. The EU Info Point Stand and EU Quiz Corner offered information and opportunities to learn about the European Union, supported by materials obtained from Europe Direct offices.
"Citizens' Cinema: Our Europe on Screen" presented ten short films created by the five partner communities. The day concluded with "Celebrating Diversity on Stage", showcasing cultural expression through performances and shared participation.

Day 3
Ideas and Commitments for Future Cooperation
Sunday, 30 August 2026

The final day began with “Messages to Europe: Wall of Ideas”, where participants shared their thoughts and messages about Europe. The “NEXT Step” plenary session then considered how the communities could continue their cooperation and keep the meeting’s values present in local life.
Representatives of the five communities signed ten bilateral cooperation agreements and adopted the Declaration of Brestovec, affirming their commitment to continued dialogue and cooperation.
The partners also planted the Tree of European Unity together. The tree remains in Brestovec as a visible reminder of the meeting and the relationships between the participating communities.
